

Claimed Exclusivity

Because Blockbuster Drug is a new molecular entity for which an application for marketing has never been approved, we believe that, upon approval of the drug product, FDA should grant 5 years of marketing exclusivity for the product.